As a working store, we welcome the public in our cavy area. Important housekeeping notes for show day:

Set up: Arica has kindly prepared our show area in the past, which is a big job for one person. If she cannot set up the night before, please help in the morning by moving racks and items to the back so judging can begin promptly. Updates will be sent by email the evening before if same-day setup is required.

Cleanup: Please assist with breakdown tables, coops, sweeping, mopping, and resetting racks. Many hands make the process faster.

Tables & space: Bring your own table if needed. Space is limited, so only bring essentials and allow room for the next exhibitor, especially during a triple show.

Tractor Supply support: While purchases are not required, consider shopping as a thank you for their continued support. A simple “thank you” goes a long way.

Food: Arica Abel usually coordinates a Chick-fil-A lunch order, delivered to the show. Alternatively, we may order pizza for delivery. You’re welcome to bring your own food. Dunkin Donuts is nearby for coffee.

Shows: We plan to run all three shows simultaneously, though this may change.

Writing: Everyone must help with writing during a triple show. One person cannot manage multiple tables alone. Please contribute so volunteers don’t burn out and the event remains enjoyable for all.
